

ABOUT NORWAY!

We are on our expedition in Norway,
Skiing from huts day to day.
We have a lovely time and beautiful weather,
Especially when we're working together.
The toilets really smell,
But we don't look down and do really well.
Everyone's moaning, but still keep going,
It is cold and icy but sometimes snowing.
We eat dry food all the time,
The noodles are starting to look like slime.
We all desperately want to go,
Because we are sick and tired of seeing snow.
We're covered in bruises, in pain too,
We're fed up of rucksacks what do we do?
We're sick of waxy white candles,
With the black coated handles.
All we do is listen to the wicked staff,
They natter and natter but we still have a laugh.
We get woke up early every morning,
Just to listen to their moaning and groaning.
We always sleep in high creaky bunk beds,
So that when we wake up we always bang our heads.
We have headaches all day while staff goes on,
And while Pete goes on, singing his songs.
We've only got a few more days to go,
Do you think we'll make it? We will never know.
So if you want to join the Project Challenge crew,
Just remember that they are there for you!!!

Good luck
